Details:

I teach English for Everyday Use (General English) as well as English for Business and Workplace (English for Success) to all levels. My online classes are highly-interactive and fun. My students enjoy my live presence while participating in a virtual classroom so that they don't only hear my voice but also see me and our lesson’s visual aids, live! They can even draw and explain their ideas to me using an online whiteboard, like we're just sitting together during the class. The lessons are customized to meet every student's need. My training approach is very student-friendly and students get to speak their minds a lot through active role playing, thought-provoking activities, and interesting discussions in the form of debates, interviews, etc. Students receive a lot of corrections to improve their sentence constructions as well as their pronunciation. Moreover, they get to enhance their writing skills upon completing essays and business letters and receiving suggestions on how to improve their written works. These writing tasks are usually assigned to them as homework
