Details:

I am a teacher of Russian and English with 20 years of experience in different schools. I am from Russia. I particularly recall how well my students received me. Teaching is a difficult task at times, requiring that the teacher reach students with interesting knowledge, while forming constructive relationships with them simultaneously. And while I perceive that teaching a language could feel repetitive, I kept my successful teacher's instructions going, from one group on to another, with no complaints at all. I accomplish tasks under my responsibility with thorough precision. My technical methods are concise and expertly constructed. I understand a broad range of themes and philosophies, and I have a strong ability to innovate, create and expand knowledges, approaches and techniques.

(Native Speaker)
Next June I will get a degree as an austrian English and Russian teacher. My russian diploma have been confirmed at Salzburg University.
