Details:

Originally from Toulouse, south-west France, I've been living in Dublin for 5 years. I love linguistics and languages, and am currently learning Mongolian and Nepali.
Although I've mainly taught English, I can also teach French and help you with your homework in beginner Italian, Chinese, German...feel free to ask!
When working with a student, my aims are:
* provide him/her with a work & study
methodology that will work for him/her
* make it as painless/enjoyable as efficiency
permits
* reach the goals that we've set together in any needed areas (hey, I'm the teacher, but this is still team work).

I also like working with various tools: the Internet, pictures, films, musics & songs, magazines & papers ...you name
it.
The pupils I have worked with ranged from 5 to 60 years old, were from very different backgrounds and levels. And it's always been great craic.
I'm flexible, committed and I don't mind explaining something several hundred times if that's what it takes
Follow-up help in between classes via email is possible too.
There you go! :-)
