Details:

I am a teacher by profession and have the requisite qualification and experience to fit into any assignment. In fact I have a passion for education and special knack for teaching young children. My qualifications and detailed experiences with profile is outlined in my CV. However, some of the highlights worth considering are appended below:
a. Hold two master degrees in Anthropology and Islamic Studies and two bachelor degrees including one in education, hence am aptly qualified in the field of imparting education at any level.
b. Have done number of professional courses pertaining to teaching, languages, civil defence, arts & crafts, drama & acting etc.
c. Have varied and rich experience in teaching the students from nursery to bachelor level in some of the leading institutions of Pakistan; Beaconhouse School System, Army Public Schools and COMSATS Institute of Information Technology are a few to mention.
d. Have a special knack and experience of teaching physically/mentally impaired children and those with slow learning abilities.

e. I also worked for number of TV and radio channels and Pakistan National Council of Arts as news reader and anchor person.
f. Have special interest in poetry and literature work and arts & crafts and have numerous works to demonstrate
g. Have pronouncedly contributed in producing more than four books on education and undertaken numerous research projects relating human social behaviour and education.
h. Have number of appreciation letters and certificates of excellence to my credit, mostly relating to education
Foregoing reveals that I can be one of the most suitable choices to make a good and effective member of any institution/organization striving for promotion of education and am certain to make the desired difference, should a chance be given to me.
