details:

I enjoy teaching and I am fascinated by the whole teaching and learning process
My approach to tutoring is: The tutee and I will discuss what goals the tutee wishes to achieve and together we will work to achieve those goals (e.g. coursework, poetry). The tutee may bring before me any aspect of English literature or language that he/she wants to improve and we will work on it. For example, the tutee could show me some coursework he/she is doing and we could go through it and see where there could be improvement. One useful strategy is to look at texts and practise analysing them. The lessons are very flexible and I will work around the tutee's needs.
