Ich bevorzuge Onlineunterricht, schließe aber Unterricht vor Ort nicht aus.

Ort: 69123 Heidelberg, Deutschland

Fächer:

english, english conversation, english writing, english literary studies, english grammar, english creative writing, english, studies, english, writing

Qualifikation:

Graduate from Plymouth University, UK with 6 years of teaching experience from preschool to university students. I have experience teaching anything from conversational English to reading and writing academic papers and IELTS preperation. For younger students, I also have training in phonics and pronounciation and incorporate my training in the creative arts to develop an engaging lesson plan. Also trained in music and integrate a lot of it in my lessons - in case you connect with music too ,) English, Native speaker -/ Thai, fluent. Currently studying a master's in Heidelberg for music therapy.

Besides my work experience, my travel experience has equally been as enriching in the development of my teaching/interating methods. Meeting people from around the world has definitely exapnded my approach to teaching and life.

Niveau:

Grundschule, Mittelstufe, Oberstufe, Abitur

Details:

The two field I teach are English speaking, listening, reading and writing and music education. In most of my lesson plans and sessions, I like to incorporate elemants of art and music and drama to engage my students to the learning content. I've tutored many different types of students from younger preschool children to professors at universities. I do not have a set formula of how to teach and often rely on multiple assessments with each student to develop a curriculum together based on personal preferences and interests - for standardised examinations such as IELT, the lesson plans are a bit more rigid but still fun.

I'm currently studying at SRH Hochschule Heidelberg to be a music therapist and need to find part time work to support myself - hence this job post. I am available mostly on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, however, the other days are also possible in between my lectures. The sessions can be conducted on-site (in-person) or online. For younger students I prefer in-person.
